Enemy Declares Fighting
In Progress And One
Assault Bailed

By International News Service
A large-scale landing assault by United States forces in the Mariana Islands, 1,500 miles from Tokyo, was reported by the Japanese today.

The enemy account of the assault by combat forces said to have landed from a score of transports in the wake of a shattering bombardment by United States warships was given in a wireless transmission by the Domei agency.

"Heavy fighting is going on between Japanese units and enemy forces which attempted to land on Saipan island," the Japanese said.

The Domei description of the assault, as yet unconfirmed by official United States quarters, was recorded by both the EOC and Reuter's (British) News Agency monitors.

The Japs claimed that one attempted landing on Saipan island had been frustrated by the Nip-ponese garrison, adding, however, that another landing had been attempted on "Marianas harbor" and that the Japanese were engaged in conflict with the "invaders."

The Americans made their way toward shore from 20 transports aboard some 70 landing barges and 20 to 30 special barges, Domei said.

Islands Blasted

The islands since last Saturday had been subjected to terrific aerial onslaughts by American carrier-based planes, and headquarters of Admiral Chester W.

cruisers and destroyers had

MEAT MAY GO BACK ON RATION LIST NEXT MONTH

WASHINGTON, June 15—It was reported today that meat will probably be put back on the ration list next month to correct a bad distribution of supplies.

A spokesman for the Office of Price Administration said the agency will reach a decision next week on returning point-free meats to rationing in July, with the possibility of such action
"pretty bright."

JAPS SEE RAID
AS REAL THREAT

Strike At Marianas Said
To Be Only Prelude To Grand Offensive

NEW YORK, June 15—The Tokyo newspaper Asahi Shimbun warned today that "the enemy may possibly repeat attempts to push through the Central Pacific," according to Domei.

The enemy paper was commenting on the Japanese communique which acknowledged the American attacks on the Marianas Islands.

The Mainichi Shimbun said these raids "could be termed a prelude to a grand offensive," Domei said as heard by U. S. government monitor.

Asahi Shimbun said there was "no doubt" that the Pacific fighting was "synchronized" with the European war and declared that the Japanese "at this juncture should grasp the opportunity to switch from defensive to offensive operations in close concert with the valiant fighting of the German forces in Europe."

Another Tokyo paper, Yomiuri Hochi, said that Japan "at this moment" should "further its efforts to increase" war production since "the Pacific will be the scene of decisive battles."

Mainichi Shimbun warned the Japanese people, said Domei, "not to look upon the enemy raid as insignificant" and declared that it would be a "grave mistake to think that the enemy, who launched such a large-scale invasion of the European continent, is incapable of applying pressure on the Pacific front."

NEW POST HELD SECRET

Vice Admiral Newton Takes Over Command Of Hard
Hitting Forces

SOUTH PACIFIC HEAD-QUARTERS, June 15—Admiral William F. Halsey today was relieved of the command of the South Pacific Area and the South Pacific force of the United States
Pacific fleet by Vice Admiral John Henry Newton who has been deputy commander of the South Pacific.

Admiral Halsey is being assigned to a new and as yet undisclosed role in the Pacific war.

The formal change of command was accomplished in a simple ceremony held in "the admiral's cabin" of the headquarters building. There was none of the traditional navy ceremony of shifting flags—the lowering of Halsey's four star and the hoisting of Newton's three star—but the occasion was not without its impressive elements.

Halsey sent a ringing "well done" to the South Pacific forces.
From the biggest bases in this area down to the lowliest subchaser on lonely convoy patrol, the retiring commander sent the following message:

"You have met, measured and mowed down the best the enemy had on land and sea and in the air. You have sent hundreds of Tojo's ships, thousands of his planes, tens of thousands of his slippery minions whence they can never again attack our flag nor the flags of our Allies.

DEBATE STARTS
ON BILL AIMED AT NAZI DOOM

WASHINGTON, June 15—The house began consideration of a "knock-out punch" Army supply bill today with a declaration from its military appropriations chairman that the nation's war leaders "hope" Germany will be out of the war by January 1.

Opening debate on the forty-nine billion 109 million dollar measure, Rep. Snyder (D) Pa., chairman of the house subcommittee on war department appropriations, told his colleagues:

"This bill . . . provides General Eisenhower with his knockout punch. The first round started June 6. The day of the last round we just cannot predict, but we can ferveently hope that it will come before snow flies again.

"It is the hope of our military leadership that Germany will be out of the war before another year begins."

Of the forty-nine billion dollar fund to meet military expenditures in the fiscal year starting July 1 only fifteen billion 436 million dollars is in new cash. The remainder being appropriated represents unexpended balances from the current year.

Snyder termed the legislation a "Hitler doom bill" which he said will "soften Tojo for his doom that shortly will follow."

SUB SHELLS TRAWLER

BOSTON, June 15—The lives of 27 Massachusetts fishermen were endangered recently when a Nazi sub surfaced in the North Atlantic fishing grounds and fired a dozen shells and more than 2,000 rounds of machine gun ammunition, the Navy reported today. The Navy added, however, that the fishing trawler Lark, out of Boston, and its crew, escaped from more than an hour's firing without a single casualty.

AIR BASE JUST
TWO YEARS OLD

Lockbourne Now One Of
Largest Training Fields
In America

The Army Air Force Training
Command's Lockbourne Army Air
Base is two years old today.

The base, now under the command of Col. John S. Gullet, holds the distinction of being one of the largest flying fortress pilot schools in the country.

First activated June 15, 1942, as a glider school under the command of the South East Training Center, the facilities took shape under Lt. Col. O. M. Baldinger, its first commanding officer.

On October 1, 1942, however, the Air Service Command took over the field. The glider school was moved out and the Flying Fortresses went in under the command of Col. A. C. Foulk. The following December the commanding agency again shifted. This time the Eastern Flying Training Command took over.

One month later, the Army Air
Forces Specialized Pilot School (four engine) moved in together with a great number of B-17's (Flying Fortresses).

In September, 1943, Col. Gullet succeeded Colonel Foulk as base commander, and shortly thereafter the Central Instructor's School was opened. Many fliers, veterans of foreign service, came to the base from all parts of the globe to take a course of instruction at this school. Graduates are assigned to other schools to teach new pilots how to fly the big four-motored ships.

Today, hundreds of Lockbourne graduates are fighting with fellow air force pilots of other fields in every theatre of combat to help prove the supremacy of the United States Army Air Forces.

Circleville Miss At

Carolyn Jane Owens' picture appears on a War Bond poster that has national distribution and is commanding wide attention. "To Have and Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Owens, South Pick-away street. Mr. and Mrs. Owens are the proudest parents in the world today because Carolyn Jane is selling millions of dollars worth of bonds in the Fifth War Loan Drive.

For father Owens it was the happiest moment of his life if not the biggest surprise of these war-time days when, pausing from his duties in the Lockbourne Army Airbase engineering shop he saw the poster bearing his baby's picture on the

At first he merely gazed at the picture but when he saw the like-

The photograph was taken by a

NEW YORK MAY PLACE BAN ON SKYSCRAPERS

NEW YORK, June 15—New York City, hub of the world's greatest skyscrapers, may have to be satisfied with its present crop of towering structures if the city planning commission's proposal to limit the height and bulk of future buildings materializes.

A hearing was set today for June 28 on the plan, originated by Park Commissioner Robert Moses, which is designed to "increase the open space, light and air about buildings hereafter erected by raising zoning standards as applied to the height and bulk of structure."

Manufacturing and industrial buildings would be exempt from the proposed program, but inasmuch as structures never reach skyscraper heights, the new rules would leave the Empire State and Chrysler buildings as the world's tallest.

eration were lighter than had been anticipated, and that the beachhead is now firmly established.

Reviewing the week's war developments at a news conference, Stimson declared, "We have established a firm foothold in France and . . . we will stay there until all France is liberated and the Germans defeated."

De Gaulle
Controversy
Heightens

Success Of Operations In France Threatened By Free French Chief

WASHINGTON, June 15—The arrival of Gen. Charles De Gaulle in Normandy served to heighten the controversy over the French National Committee—a controversy which reached a point today where it threatened the success of military operations in France.

Washington diplomats, who are watching the De Gaulle-Roosevelt struggle with alarm, predicted that unless an agreement can be reached immediately regarding civil control of liberated areas, the disorder in those areas will cripple the Allied armies.

The controversy which formerly concerned only Algiers, London and Washington has now been transferred across the channel and is expressing itself in the liberated areas. Two clashes of authority have already occurred:

1. De Gaulle has refused to send his mission of French officers to Normandy to act as civil administrators.

2. The French currency printed in Washington for use by invasion troops has been called into question by French authorities.

The mission of civil administrators consisted of several hundred French officers who were ready to cross the channel with the invasion forces to establish civilian controls. But De Gaulle cancelled their orders because the British and American governments refused to give them independent authority.

De Gaulle is now defending his own position by quoting the words of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who said April 9:

"It is of utmost importance that civil authority in France should be exercised by Frenchmen, should be swiftly established, and should be operating in accordance with advanced planning as fully as military operations will permit."

The confusion over American-made French currency became so troublesome that President Roosevelt took pains to make an elabo-

CIVIL WAR VETS

COLUMBUS, June 15—Five!
Just five of the 18 remaining Ohio veterans of the Civil War were in Columbus today for the 78th annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Senior of the group is William W. Welch, Cincinnati, who says he was born in Washington county, Pa., in 1829. That makes him 115 years old.

"Baby" of the group is Lewis
M. Hieston, Pleasantville, a youngster of 96. Others are 99-year-old John R. Bennett, state department commander of Waynesfield; C. W.
Needles, 97, Springfield, and Frederick Pfister, 98, of Cincinnati.

James K. P. Barker, 97, of Co-from the heat and did not join the other vets of the proud army of thousands which saved the union 80-odd years ago.

HOLLYWOOD, June 15—Peter Whitney, supporting player in a movie, was recuperating today from a broken foot which he got from kicking the star in the seat of the pants.

The star was Fred MacMurray.
As a gag in a comedy thriller,
Whitney was supposed to let go at the stooping MacMurray. "We gotta have it realistic," said Director George Marshall. "Let's put a piece of plywood in Fred's pants so he won't get hurt."

But they should have put cotton

On the eastern flank, the Ger-are reacting strongly to all Allied attempts to advance. There are indications, however, that the per-tan, where our lines pushed forward more than two miles.

Taking Quineville was the toughest job yet on this beachhead. It required nine days of attacks against enemy strong points strung at two-mile intervals on high ground overlooking the beaches. These resisted bombing and shelling until the infantry got close enough to assault and knock out machine-guns, 20-millimeter and other mobile weapons which still were able to fire from deep emplacements even after air attacks had made coastal defense rifles useless.

Some pillboxes along the beach still were holding out last night after Quineville was captured, but patrols this morning found them empty.

The Luftwaffe made its strongest appearance over this beach last night taking advantage of a few hours of total darkness from 11:30 p. m. to 4:30 a. m. It was estimated that 20 planes attacked singly through a lacy red pattern of tracer fire from beach anti-aircraft. Dropping flares, the Nazi fighter-bomber dived and released 1,000-pound bombs, causing some damage to shipping and vehicles.

Capture of Quineville meant the Americans were beginning to burst well out of their beachhead. The town was attacked from south and west, while other forces drove west across the Volognes highway.

In the Carentan sector, where a German counterattack at 11 a. m. Tuesday penetrated into the outskirts of the town, our armed forces entered into action and drove the enemy back well beyond our previous farthest penetration, strengthening our grip on that important town.

The Yanks pressed forward on La Haye Du Puits. They advanced to the neighborhood of Les Sablons and Baupie, eight and ten miles west of Carentan.

This drive, which threatened to deprive the Nazis of their last escape artery out of the port of Cherbourg, highlighted a giant battle in which the Allied invasion forces carried the fight to the Germans on all sectors of the Normandy front.

The stepped-up Allied drive, which resulted in gains west and south of Carentan where the enemy reportedly sent a Panzer division into five unsuccessful counter-attacks, was coordinated with smashing blows which mauled huge German armored forces.

The Germans were said to have hurled as many as 1,000 tanks against the Allied lines.

Caumont, according to a German admission, still is in Allied hands, while the enemy claims to hold Tilly-Sur-Seuilles which was the scene of a see-saw battle.

Under cover of naval guns and huge fleets of Allied warplanes, Gen. Eisenhower continued to strengthen his beachhead positions with a steady stream of men and materiel. The aircraft which provided cover for the beachhead, also attacked enemy communications and troop concentrations near the battle areas.

Moreover, heavy British bombers swept the English channel clear of German E-boats by a surprise and devastating blow at these speedy boats' pens in Le Havre. The RAF planes, which usually fly only by night, hit the concrete installations before dusk, cascading their six-ton block-busters on the harbor installations.

While the raid continued, Allied naval vessels stood offshore to thwart any attempts by the E-boats to break out to safety. Only one of the motor torpedo-boats made the attempt.

For the first night since D-Day, the E-boats failed to strike against Allied convoys supplying the beachheads.

Other night-flying bombers struck at the synthetic oil refineries in Gelsenkirchen, in Ger-rate defense of the plan urging that it should be freely accepted by the French people.

Observers pointed out that this confusion should not have arisen if De Gaulle had issued orders for its acceptance.

But De Gaulle, for his part, has refused to support this and other Anglo-American plans until he is given explicit authority. He represents the necessity of operating under the authority of Gen. Eisenhower.

Other governments have recognized the full authority of the committee as a provisional government. Such action was taken this week by the exile governments of Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Luxembourg and Poland.

Diplomats regarded De Gaulle's arrival in Normandy as heightening his prestige and making the Washington attitude of non-recognition more difficult to maintain.

CHARLES NILES DIES IN NORTHWEST OHIO

Funeral services were held in Harrod, Hardin county Thursday for Charles Niles, 63, veterinarian, former resident of Pickaway county who died at his home there Tuesday.

He is survived by a widow, Anna, two sons John Parker who is in the Armed Forces and Roger at home; two sisters, Mrs. Carl Struck, Granville and Mrs. Nellie Carter of College Center; two half-brothers, J. F. and Cash Radcliff of Circleville. A brother, William Niles, who lived on West Mill street, died about two years ago.

Attending the funeral from Circleville were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Radcliff, Sheriff Charles Radcliff, Mrs. Leonard Morgan, Cash Radcliff, Mr. and Mrs. John Skaggs and Maxine Niles.

COUNTY GETS $16,000

Pickaway county received $16,000 in gasoline money from the State Auditor's office and checks in the amount of $6,000 were mailed to the various townships in the county Wednesday. Each township received a check for $400. The road fund for the county was increased by $10,000 of this total.

many's Ruhr valley, for the second time in a few days.

In Italy, Allied troops smashed German resistance which stiffened in recent days and advanced to seize the key communications center of Orvieto, 70 miles northeast of Rome. In addition, two more important towns fell to the forces of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, while Allied spearheads pushed into Terni and reached Aquila, other key road and rail hubs in central Italy.

One spearhead of the Fifth Army was some 90 miles northwest of the Eternal City, by driving to the neighborhood of Bengodi.

The Finnish high command admitted that the Russians on the Karelian isthmus had scored a breakthrough above Kutersekae, and said that Viipuri was bombed during the night. At last reports, the Soviets were within 37 miles of Viipuri, whose capture in 1940 ended the Russo-Finnish "Winter war."

Moreover, heavy British bombers swept the English channel clear of German E-boats by a surprise and devastating blow at these speedy boats' pens in Le Havre. The RAF planes, which usually fly only by night, hit the concrete installations before dusk, cascading their six-ton block-busters on the harbor installations.

While the raid continued, Allied naval vessels stood offshore to thwart any attempts by the E-boats to break out to safety. Only one of the motor torpedo-boats made the attempt.

For the first night since D-Day, the E-boats failed to strike against Allied convoys supplying the beachheads.

Other night-flying bombers struck at the synthetic oil refineries in Gelsenkirchen, in Ger-

Saipan and Tinian islands in the Marianas group.

The fact that the Marianas were subjected to such a sustained assault indicated an early landing against this Japanese bastion protecting the southern approaches to the main Nipponese islands.

Announcement of the naval bombardment caused informed quarters in Washington to believe that an American invasion similar to that which took place in the Marshalls was imminent.

Domei followed the initial announcement in the English language transmission intended for United States consumption with a report that task force units which "attempted a landing" in the morning on Saipan was thwarted by the Japanese garrison on the island.

The Jap agency said that 20 transports had appeared off Saipan and from about 6:30 a. m. Tokyo time (5:30 p. m. Wednesday EWT) had "attempted a landing, employing about 70 landing barges and some 20 to 30 special barges."

There was no confirmation either from Pearl Harbor or Washington that an actual landing attempt had been made in the Marianas.

It was recalled, however, that the Japs were first to announce the American invasion of the Marshalls.

In describing the "landing action" the Jap Domei English-language dispatch, as recorded by U. S. government monitors, said: "With full knowledge of the enemy's attempt, our garrison forces allowed the invaders to approach as near as possible to the coast and then opened up fierce, concentrated fire on the enemy and foiled the attempt."

"Thrown into wild confusion by the accurate Japanese fire, the enemy barges, or what was left of them, swiftly returned to their mother vessel at about 8:20 o'clock."

"Later at about 10 o'clock the enemy attempted another landing on Marianas Harbor, west of Saipan, but Japanese forces are now inflicting heavy punishment on the invaders."

The Domei dispatch said that "losses inflicted on the enemy in this combat could not be ascertained accurately due to the prevailing dense fog" but declared that "observation from the island estimates enemy losses in personnel not less than 1,800 while at least 40 barges were accounted for."

The Domei dispatch then concluded its "flash news from Tokyo" by offering this propaganda comment: "Commenting on this new enemy operation, authoritative sources here said that this enemy attack on Saipan had been undoubtedly taken in concert with the European invasion. This new offensive, these sources declare, has been staged to bolster the American public and is nothing else but another manifestation of Roosevelt's internal policy."

MILITARY RITES TO BE HELD FOR CAPTAIN BRACEY

Private military funeral services for Captain James Harold Bracey, 26, will be Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crites, of Stoutsville. Capt. Bracey, husband of the former Leah Ann Crites, died Saturday at Tournay General Hospital, Palm Springs, Cal., following an operation.

Survivors in addition to Mrs. Bracey include one son, James H. Bracey, Jr.; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Bracey, of Columbia, S. C., and one sister, Miss Virginia Bracey, of the home.

The Rev. R. Johnson will officiate at the services, and burial in charge of Crites and Van Cleave will be in Maple Hill cemetery, Stoutsville.

Friends may call at the Crites residence from 10:30 a. m. Friday until the hour of services.

broke his offensive spirit in those smashing Bougainville-Rabaul blows at his ships and planes and troops in November 1943; and you have smeared him and rolled over him easily to occupy Emirau. "And now carry on the smashing South Pacific tradition under your new commanders and may we join up again farther along the road to Tokyo."

The successor to the two-fisted Jap-smashing Halsey is similarly a square-jawed naval officer of fighting build. Prior to his coming to the South Pacific war zone early this year, Newton was deputy commander in chief of the Pacific ocean areas under Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

SCOTT HEETER, FORMER COUNTY RESIDENT, KILLED

While operating a crane at the Smith Brothers Welding Company in Columbus where he was employed, Scott Heeter, 48, was electrocuted Wednesday when the crane hit a high tension wire.

He was a Pickaway county native and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Heeter who live near Williamsport. He was an employee of the local Container Corporation of America before going to Columbus about 20 years ago.

Besides his parents he is survived by a widow, Getena, three daughters, Ruth, Betty Lou and Phyllis; two sons, Private Kenneth Heeter a member of the Armed Forces stationed at Bangor Maine and Charles; two brothers, Harold of Columbus and Shirley of near Ashville, and six sisters, Mrs. Anna Hill, Columbus; Mrs. Mary Shaffer, Pataskala; Mrs. Dorothy Coleman, Kingston; Mrs. Catharine Pritchard, Laurelville; Mrs. Hulda Beam, Lockbourne and Mrs. Viola Wimer, Columbus.

at hand, the general said, his voice marked by emotion:

"I want to ask you to solemnly sing the Marseillaise with me."

Tears streamed unabashed down the cheeks of men, women and children alike. Many women carried children in their arms as they sang the stirring anthem.

Overhead, Allied spitfire and thunderbolt fighter planes droned, meanwhile, and on nearby fronts guns boomed and United Nations soldiers advanced against stubborn German opposition.

For the first time in many weeks there is a light feeling even inside this correspondent as he witnesses the easy, confident smiles of the people—the first since his arrival here three days ago.

French tricolors, which heretofore had been scattered only spottily through the town, now are broken out in full strength and wave defiantly in the breeze.

De Gaulle's visit, made with assent of the United States and British authorities, was his first appearance on French soil since June 18, 1940. Then, he was returning to London from Bordeaux where he had gone to unsuccessfully urge the Reynaud government to accept a British offer of a national union between France and Britain.

(The London Exchange Telegraph company reported that General Koenig and Admiral Dargenlieu accompanied De Gaulle who, during his few hours in France, conferred with leaders of the French resistance movement. After visiting Bayeux, the dispatch said, the Free French leader, or drove to the beach and reembarqued upon the French destroyer Le Combatant for the return trip to England.)

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND MEET OF CAMP COUNCIL

Mrs. W. E. Caskey, Mrs. Harry Heffner, Miss Marvene Howard and Mrs. John Boggs of Circleville attended a meeting of the Buckeye Camp and Hospital Council Service Wednesday at the U. S. Army Air Base, Lockbourne, representing the Pickaway county unit.

It was decided that the Pickaway County Camp and Hospital Council service would furnish one of the day rooms at the Air Base. Much has been supplied in the way of furnishings, but many things are still needed.

Saturday, June 10, the Pickaway County Garden club sent representatives to the Lockbourne base to take flowers to be planted at the non-commissioned officers' club. The plants were greatly appreciated. In the Garden Club group were: Mrs. Emmett W. Barnhart, Mrs. E. S. Shane and Mrs. F. K. Blair, members of the appointed committee, and Mrs. James P. Moffitt, Mrs. Ione Reichelderfer, Mrs. Charles Smith, Miss Florence Dunton, Miss Mary Heffner, Mrs. Harry Heffner, Mrs. John Boggs and Miss Margaret Boggs.

The Pickaway County Camp and Hospital Council service expects to have a meeting soon at the local Red Cross chapter rooms.

C. E. VALENTINE INJURED WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER

C. E. Valentine, 75, Circleville Rt. 1, suffered minor injuries when the Model T Ford he was driving turned over on the Kingston pike a few miles from Circleville, Wednesday.

The accident happened as Arthur Murray, 30, of Rt. 3, Circleville, drove his Chevrolet truck loaded with peas past the Valentine Ford. Sheriff Charles Radcliff investigated the accident.

Mr. Valentine was taken to Berger hospital where he received first aid treatment and was dismissed.

EDWARD MINSHALL DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Edward Minshall, 78, a retired Saltcreek township farmer, died Wednesday at 10 p. m. at the family home after a long illness. He was a member of the Whistler Presbyterian church and of the Adelphi Knights of Pythias lodge.

He leaves his wife, the former Cora Lutz; two children, Fred L. Minshall, Kingston, and Mrs. George Hamman, Jr., Williamsport, and five grandchildren. He was the last of four boys of his family, a brother, James Minshall, having died about six weeks ago at Washington C. H.

Born October 30, 1865, near Hallsville, he was the son of Gilmore and Louisa Fink Minshall.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 3 p. m. at the home in Saltcreek township with the Rev. L. V. Bauguess of the Kingston Presbyterian church officiating. Burial in charge of the L. E. Hill funeral home will be in Prairie View cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday morning and at the residence, Friday afternoon, until the hour of services.

PURPLE HEART RECEIVED BY HERO'S WIDOW

Mrs. Evelyn P. Hinton has received the Purple Heart award given posthumously to her husband, Corporal Herschel V. Hinton. The citation read:

"Corporal Herschel V. Hinton, ASN 35614264, for military merit and for wounds received in action, resulting in his death, November 27, 1943." It was signed by J. H. Ulio, major general, the adjutant general, and by Henry L. Stimson, secretary of war.

Mrs. Hinton also received the Citation of Honor from the U. S. Army Air Forces. It read: "Citation of Honor of the U. S. Army Air Forces for Corporal Herschel V. Hinton, who gave his life in the performance of his duty November 27, 1943."

"He lived to bear his Country's arms. He died to save its honor. He was a soldier... and he knew a soldier's duty. His sacrifice will help to keep aglow the flaming torch that lights our lives... that millions yet unborn may know the priceless joy of liberty. And we who pay him homage and revere his memory, in solemn pride rededicate ourselves to a complete fulfillment of the task for which he so gallantly has placed his life upon the altar of man's freedom." Signed, H. H. Arnold, U. S. Army,

Commanding General Army Air Forces.

Mrs. Hinton, an employee of the John W. Eshelman and Sons company, is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Pierce, of Pickaway township.

HAVE THEM AND HOLD THEM

FOR this is our country, to have and to hold," sang the Pennsylvanians in their salutes to workers on the home front. But there's something aghast with our having and holding. The fighters are doing their share at fighting—and more. Most workers are doing their share at working. But it takes more than fighting and working to hold the country safe for the future.

It takes saving. The pioneers found that out. Some made their start on money they had saved themselves. They knew how hard it was to make and save that money, and they were thrifty in their use of it. Others had to borrow capital saved by other folks, and pay interest on it. If they, too, were careful, they got ahead. If not, they lost their holdings and their labor and had to go back, broke, or live on the charity of neighbors.

War, with its savings bonds, brings an opportunity to Americans. They can help while saving, hardly feeling it, and really get ahead. But they throw away that opportunity when they cash their bonds for anything less than dire necessity. The bonds are their future. They should be held until they mature.

Eating little green apples is bad business. They are neither food nor pleasure. All they produce is tummyache. Waiting for ripe red apples always pays in food and delight both.

Buy the regular bonds, and more, in honor of Invasion. Hold them all. Only by saving can the nation, family, individual, build future satisfactions.

LIBERATION DAY

ST. Mihiel is a familiar name to American veterans of the last war. Few saw the town itself, but those who did vividly remember the joy with which the inhabitants, after four years of German rule, greeted the rescuing entry of the A. E. F. Bayeux has repeated the welcome.

In 1914-18 German mastery of the conquered territories, harsh as it was, did not compare with the terrible experiences of today's victims. The United Nations' forces will come, as President Roosevelt says, not as invaders, but as liberators. And Liberation Day may become for many countries and for many centuries a national holiday.

Forewarned is forearmed. After all, there are ways of eradicating even such stubborn notions as this. Nazism is not an incurable disease.

There seems to be some speculation as to why the Germans left Rome. Well, why does a tenant move when he's kicked out?

The Lord may love a sinner, but seems to show more enthusiasm for a winner.

Don't start cheering prematurely about this war; the Germans will still kill a lot of people.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

ARMY INTELLIGENCE

WASHINGTON—War Department officials are laughing behind their hands at the fact that Military Intelligence, supposed to know all about everything going on behind enemy lines and inside our own lines, chose D-Day to move their offices. In the Pentagon Building, where Military Intelligence, or G-2, is housed, moving day was called "G2's D-Day". They "invaded" their new offices.

But never could they have chosen a worse day to move than the Allied D-Day. Other War Department officers kept calling up G2, asking for information.

"Sorry," said the operator, "but the telephones are all torn out. G2 is moving". Furniture was being moved down corridors, files of secret information were being shunted from one place to another. Everything was confusion on the one day which meant most to the war.

Apparently, Military Intelligence, supposed to know everything, didn't know when the big day was to cross the English Channel was scheduled.

REASON FOR CRACKDOWN ON EIRE

Now it can be revealed why President Roosevelt was so tough in his crackdown on the Irish regarding the removal of Axis diplomats from Eire.

It long had been planned, though a strict secret, to land on the Cherbourg peninsula. To reach it, many U. S. troops had to steam through the Irish Sea and through waters adjacent to Eire.

This was because the bulk of U. S. army camps have been located in the west and northwest of England. While some of the troops were moved in advance to the Channel ports, a lot of them had to swing down through the Irish Sea around the tip end of Wales and then toward Cherbourg.

Naturally, the President wanted no scrap of information regarding the early passage of landing barges through the Irish Sea to leak out in any manner, shape or form.

NOTE—As it later happened, the invasion probably was no surprise to the enemy, partly because of the false invasion news dispatch, partly because of the fact that the armada, after getting all ready, had to be held up one day because of bad weather.

CAPITAL CHAFF

You can expect Admiral Nimitz to replace Admiral King as Chief of Naval operations most any time. . . Chief of Staff General Marshall was able to go to bed and sleep soundly the night of the invasion, for two reasons: (1) He had done his work so well in advance; (2) he has gone through life working intensely during his work periods, then relaxing completely during his rest periods. He usually takes fifteen minutes off for a cat-nap after lunch. That is why, though past retirement age, he looks under 65 today. . . Dewey brain-trusters have devised an effective campaign idea which should win votes—namely, we are not electing a Vice President, but a President. The idea is based on the general report that the President, if he runs, will step out after the war is over. . . Democrats are spreading a new slogan: "Dewey want Hoover again?" . . . George Seligman "In Fact" this week carries a revealing expose on Miss Vivien Kellems' Nazi boy friend in Argentina.

The custom still goes on. I get letters all the time from people who have been frightened by well-intentioned friends, that coffee causes high blood pressure, that

DIET AND HEALTH

Coffee a Harmless Drink

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

THE HAND of the Puritan lies all too heavily on what should be the realm of the scientist in dietetics. His influence is seen in the pronouncements of self-appointed specialists, which are to the general effect that anything you like to eat or drink is for the very reason you like it, bad for you. Meat, according to this school, ruins your kidneys; pie gives you indigestion and diabetes and makes you fat, but roots and tubers and the green tops of outlandish vegetables, they are good for you.

Nothing could illustrate this better than the all too timorous attitude towards tea and coffee. Something can be said in favor of objections to alcoholic beverages and tobacco; these common habits of mankind do carry some seeds of danger. But tea and coffee are so beneficial and harmless that any argument against their use is almost entirely emotional and based on the fundamental aversion any body has to seeing somebody else have a good time.

The habit of deprecating their use goes back a long way. As early as 1610 tea leaves were brought from Bantam to Holland and introduced to France and England a few years later. This cup which cheered, but did not intoxicate, had a wide appeal and by 1750 four millions of pounds were imported into England. Coffee was soon after almost as popular. Coffee houses were set up where friends met in public to discuss life and letters over the steaming cup. Such a spectacle of human happiness was not long neglected by the moralists.

Hear the croakings of James Hannay, merchant of Portsmouth, in 1757.

"From its use, men seem to have lost their stature and women their beauty. Your very chambermaids have lost their bloom, I suppose by drinking tea."

You see, it's the same old line. He did not know that tea had any bad effects, but it gave people pleasure, so he made up some bad effects. There is not the slightest evidence that tea or coffee stunts growth or ruins the complexion, but that didn't stop him from saying they did.

The custom still goes on. I get letters all the time from people who have been frightened by well-intentioned friends, that coffee causes high blood pressure, that tration with them, will go out of existence at midnight June 30, unless Congress votes to continue them. The House has already done so.

Congress does intend to continue the stabilization program. The only question at issue is the terms under which it will be continued.

A major battle has taken place over these terms. Congress may spend a good part of this month fighting over them.

It is possible that President Roosevelt will veto the extension bill, and that Congress will be confronted with a crisis over continuance of price control that will require some hasty action.

The Bankhead cotton escalator amendment, strangely enough, has emerged as the No. 1 issue in the battle.

This amendment states that price ceilings on cotton textiles shall not be less than a parity price for cotton, at least for the first 60 days, plus a "reasonable" profit for 90 per cent of the manufacturers on each textile item.

The OPA says this will crack the stabilization program. A great many members of Congress from cotton-producing states say it will raise the price of cotton, and increase production of low-priced cotton textiles.

The battle recently opened in the Senate. One side or the other will go down in defeat. The OPA's big trump card is the presidential veto.

AMERICA'S FIGHTING MARINES, it seems, are very press conscious.

Hearings on the OWI budget disclosed that the Marine Corps is one of the best customers of the agency's clipping bureau which clips some 300 newspapers daily.

The Marines have a very large order in for their activities in all theaters of war, the House appropriations committee was informed.

General Denig, chief of the Marine Corps public relations setup, sends the clippings out to the war theaters so the boys can see how the newspapers back home are treating the actions in which they have taken part.

The Marine Corps believes it is excellent for the corps morale.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

"It's getting worse," reported Pat to Ellery. "Jim's drinking himself stupid. Even Lola can't do anything with him. Ellery, is it just that he's scared?"

"He's not scared at all. Goes deeper than funk, Patty. Hasn't he seen Nora yet?"

"He's ashamed to go near her. Nora's threatening to get out of bed and go over there herself, only Dr. Willoughby said if she did he'd send her to the hospital. I slept with her last night. She cried all night."

Ellery remarked glumly, "Nora still thinks he's innocent?"

"Of course. She wants him to fight back. She says if he'd only come over to see her, she knows she could persuade him to stand up and defend himself from these attacks. Did you see what those reporters are writing about Jim now?"

"Yes," sighed Ellery.

"It's all Frank Lloyd's fault! Pop's so furious he says he'll never speak to Frank again."

"It's better to keep out of Lloyd's way," said Ellery with a frown. "He's thoroughly aroused."

Then Pat burst out: "How can people be so mean? Mom's friends—they don't call her any more, they're whispering ugly things behind her back, she's being snubbed by two of her organizations—even Clarice Martin's stopped calling!"

"The Judge's wife," murmured Ellery. "Which suggests another interesting problem. . . Have you seen Carter Bradford lately?"

"No," answered Pat. Then the author-detective swiftly changed tack. "Patty, what do you know about Roberta Roberts?"

"A good reporter. I'd say!"

"Strange what different conclusions she draws from the same facts. Did you see this?" Ellery showed Pat a Chicago newspaper, flipped back to Roberta's Column. A paragraph had been ringed, and Pat read it quickly:

The longer I investigate this case, the surer I feel that James Haight is the misunderstood man, a martyr to what is at best a circumstantial case and a victim of mobism. The woman he is alleged by gossips to have tried to poison is standing by her husband four-square, with never a doubt. More power to you, Nora Wright Haight! If faith and love still mean anything in this wretched world, your husband's name will be cleared, and you will triumph over the pack.

"That's a deserved tribute!" cried Pat.

"A little emotional, even for a famous entrepreneur of love," remarked Mr. Queen dryly. "I think I'll cultivate this female Cupid."

But that only confirmed his first impression. Roberta Roberts was heart and soul behind the struggle to get Jim a just hearing. Roberta had one talk with Nora, and they became fighters in a common cause.

"If you could only get Jim to come up here," said Nora urgently. "Won't you try, Miss Roberts?"

"He'd listen to you," Pat interposed.

But Jim refused to stir from the house.

"Why, Jim?" asked the newspaper woman patiently. Ellery was present, and Lola Wright.

"Lemme alone," Jim had not shaved; under the stubble his skin was gray.

On February 18th, Dr. Willoughby said that Nora could get out of bed. There was much joy in the household. Ludie baked a gargantuan lemon-meringue pie, Nora's favorite; John F. came home early from pathy with them, and you will find you have no reason to be bored.

Another "Ward Crisis" Looms | OPA Price and Wage Control Over War Labor Board Order | Must Be Renewed by June 30

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The chances are good for another "Ward crisis" before the elections. Although it took six months for the last case to reach the showdown that led to federal seizure of the Chicago facilities of the huge mail order house, observers predict that the present one will develop swiftly.

A new War Labor Board order has been directed to Sewell Avery, Ward board chairman, to continue terms of the old C. I. O. contract in its Chicago plant until a new agreement is negotiated through collective bargaining conferences.

Ward officials have indicated sharp opposition to the directive and may defy the board and the case will be transmitted again to President Roosevelt for action.

Thus, Mr. Roosevelt will be confronted with a charge of political dynamite practically on the eve of the November balloting.

Administration leaders are well aware of the political risks in the case in view of the storm of criticism that broke after the original seizure.

There seems to be no alternative, however, to forcing another showdown with Avery, if the WLB is to be maintained as the government's No. 1 arbiter of labor disputes.

PRICE CONTROL, in fact, the entire hold-the-line program against inflation, has just one more month of life, under the law as it stands.

Children Entertain At Lutheran Parish House

Ladies Society Hears Program of Merit

Children and grandchildren of members of Trinity Lutheran Ladies' society entertained Wednesday at the meeting in the parish house, 100 members and guests gathered for the occasion. Mrs. Edward Wolf gave an interesting review of the article on "Child Evangelism" in the June Outlook.

Mrs. Denny Pickens was in charge of the devotionals, reading the Scripture lesson from I Corinthians, 12-27. Mrs. Charles Price was reinstated. Mrs. Hazel Neff has been received as a new member, instead of Mrs. Hazel Rader, as announced previously.

Mrs. H. M. Crites presented a very interesting reading, "Our Problem."

Nancy and Donna Jean Cline entertained the group with a piano duet and Jimmy Carpenter, with a piano solo. The chorus of children presenting a program of songs included Donald Good, George Troutman, Joyce Troutman, Julia Ann Smith, Edward Walters, George Weller, David Carpenter, David Hammel, Carolyn Weller, Nancy Senebrenner, Bobby Senebrenner, Roseanna Bartholomew, Nancy Cline, Donna Jean Cline, Alyce Weller, Johnny Howard, Jimmy Bartholomew, Edward Wolf, Ruth Troutman, Patty Arbogast, Norma Howard, Jimmy Carpenter, Doris Smith and Mary Krimmel.

Circle 3

Circle 3 of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of the Methodist church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sam Rife, North Pickaway street, for the June meeting. Thirteen members responded to roll call. Three guests, the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Batterson of Circleville and Mrs. Sue Cheap, Columbus, were present.

Mrs. O. C. King was in charge of the devotionals. Mrs. G. H. Adkins, chairman, conducted a quiz pertaining to the W. S. C. S. Mrs. R. R. Bales, program chairman, gave a very interesting talk about the different circles of the W. S. C. S. which she attended during her visit throughout the South.

The Rev. Mr. Batterson, guest speaker, told of his 20 years of work in the mission fields of South America, his talk being informative and interesting.

The Circle decided to recess during July and August.

Mrs. Rife, assisted by Mrs. Harry Smith and Miss Eileen Blundell, served delightful refreshments.

Logan Elm Grange
Logan Elm grange will meet Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., fast time, at Pickaway school auditorium. Saltcreek grange will confer third and fourth degrees on a class of candidates. The cookie contest of Logan Elm grange will be held at this meeting. Refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Otis Leist and her committee.

Star Grange
Thirty grangers and 14 juveniles were present Tuesday for the regular meeting of Star grange in Monroe school auditorium. C. M. Reid, worthy master, was in charge of the business meeting and received one application for membership.

The program included two readings, "How to Make Hay," by C. E. Dick, and "The Ten Commandments on Making Hay," by Earl Fischer. The remainder of the discussion hour was devoted to informal talks on hay.

The entertainment arranged by Mrs. Lyle Davis, worthy lecturer, opened with group singing of "Columbia, Gem of the Ocean," by the juveniles; reading, "Old Glory," Mrs. C. E. Dick; "A Song for Flag Day," juveniles; reading, "God Bless America," Mrs. Ethel Funniss; meditation and prayer for Flag Day, the Rev. W. E. Ewing.

To pan-broil meat properly, place in heavy frying pan. Do not add fat or water, and do not cover. Brown meat on both sides, then reduce temperature and cook slowly until done, turning meat occasionally so that it will cook evenly. Pour off fat which collects in the pan.

Sgt. John Hoffhines of the famed Rangers has returned to Camp Meade, Maryland to await assignment to active duty. Sgt. Hoffhines spent a furlough with relatives in this vicinity.

Henry Gloyd, who suffered a broken hip in a fall at his home about the first of June, has recovered sufficiently to be removed from the hospital to the home of his son, Edgar. Surgeon Elliot Peters "nailed" the broken bone together and recovery has been rapid.

Cpl. James Hickman of Camp Ft. Bliss, Texas writes that he has enough of the Texan sand and heat to last him for the rest of his life. We have yet to hear from an Ohioan in Texas who likes the climate there.

The Pythian Sisters held a farewell party Tuesday at the lodge hall for Stella Kraft who is removing to Columbus in the near future. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers and a covered dish supper was served at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Kraft received a pair of ear rings as a remembrance gift. Members and guests present included: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trone and Charles Milton, Kaye Morrison, Winnifred Morrison, Florence Cline, Doris Cline, Grace Moore, Hazel Perkins, Mildred Messick, Ethel Valentine, Grace Reid, Mary Childers, Lillian Weber, Gladys Rush, Rose Kaiserman, Edith Hudson, Jet Hedges, Myra Snyder, Florence Wharton, Anne Newcome, Hattie Rife, and the guest of honor, Stella Kraft.

Several local people have attended the stage show at the Palace starring Circleville's Ted Lewis. The consensus of opinion is that the show is very good.

The Knights of Pythias met in regular session Wednesday evening.

$41,156 PAID OUT TO COUNTY MILK PRODUCERS

Government Issues Total Of 670 Drafts During May
For $14,229.41

Since the beginning of the dairy feed program last October the government has paid Pickaway county farmers $41,156.73, the local AAA office revealed Wednesday. During May attaches in the local office issued 670 drafts on the government amounting to $14,229.41 for milk and cream sold during February, March and April.

Dewey Downs of the local office is reminding farmers that June 30 is the last day for making payments for milk and butterfat produced and sold during February, March and April.

"Farmers who are too busy to come to the county office should mail their applications and evidence," Mr. Downs said.

The office has received quite a few late applications for other payment periods, but members of the committee feel that because the program has been in force for some months, farmers should now be familiar with the program and observe the regulations for making applications.

Any member of the office force will be glad to explain the workings of the dairy feed program to persons wishing information concerning payment rates for coming periods, the closing dates for making applications or any other information desired, Mr. Downs said. "We don't want anyone to lose out because they forgot to apply before the closing date for any period," he added.

CITY DISPLAYS HONOR HEROES, BOOST BONDS

Frank Suss, chairman of publicity and display for the Fifth War Loan drive has prepared a window at the G. C. Murphy company store showing the pictures of World War II heroes who have lost their lives.

Small replicas of white crosses that mark the graves of soldiers buried in cemeteries in foreign countries bear the name of youths from this county who have died in service.

Another interesting window display that ties in with the loan drive is that prepared by the Ed Wallace Bakery from articles sent to Mr. Wallace by his son, Lieutenant Paul Wallace, who is now in England.

Among the articles displayed are a hand grenade, a rocket shell which is also used in the bazooka, a rifle grenade, a .22 calibre rifle shell, a .45 pistol rifle shell and a .30 calibre silver rifle shell which are given as award for marksmanship. A regular 30 shell, a .50 calibre shell used in machine guns and a 37 millimeter armour piercing shell which had been shot from a cannon used as an anti-tank weapon on a ground mount and also used in light tanks and aircraft guns.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO- ROUND

do with the war, but rather with the tender subject of teeth and the gentlemen who drill them.

The document is a record of a hearing before the House Naval Affairs Committee on the question of putting Navy dentists on the same plane as naval doctors. Chairman Carl Vinson of Georgia flatly refuses to let anyone see the record until he has time to go through it with a blue pencil and take out evidence of how he was put on the spot by the dentists of Georgia.

Real inside is that the dentists waged one of the most lightning, successful lobbies in Washington. They are probably going to get what they want despite the Navy—namely, to make the Navy's Bureau of Medicine and Surgery the "Bureau of Medicine, Surgery and Dentistry."

Behind this is the fact that doctors in the past have always ruled naval medicine. A dentist, even when in the Navy for years and even when attaining the high rank of captain, had to take orders from a naval doctor though the latter might be only a junior lieutenant.

NAVY SAID NO

When the American Society of Dentists first got South Carolina's Representative Rivers to introduce an equality bill, the Navy flatly said no. The Secretary of the Navy also said it. The President's physician, Admiral Ross McIntire, also said it. And Chairman Vinson of the House Naval Affairs Committee said it. The bill didn't seem to have a chance.

Then the dentists of the nation got busy. They found out who was the personal dentist of every member of the Naval Affairs Committee, from Magnuson of Washington to Sasser of Maryland, and they put on the pressure. But the hardest pressure was put on Chairman Vinson, who had to bow before a delegation of dentists from Georgia.

"They got me on the martyr's bench," was one remark which the Georgia Congressman is reported to have made and which presumably he wants to take out of the record.

Another Congressman is reported to have said: "If we don't pass this bill, imagine how they can drill on us, next time we are in the dentist's chair."

Anyway the bill is now going to pass the House, despite the Navy. If it also passes the Senate, naval dentists and doctors will be equal.

PAUL WALLACE DATE NEARS FOR WRITES ABOUT EXPIRATION OF OVERSEAS LIFE "T" GAS STAMPS

Lieut. Paul Wallace in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wallace, writes interestingly of experiences as a soldier in England. Part of his letter follows:

"Here is something funny. Today, I went to a little town close by and went into a place for a cup of tea, and the radio was playing a record of Ted Lewis' band playing 'Three o'clock in the Morning'. It really got me for awhile. One of the English boys remarked that it was Ted, and asked if I had even seen him. You should have heard him when I told him we were friends and from the same town. A strange world isn't it?"

"A word about the Red Cross. They fed us before we boarded ship. They passed out things twice on board. They were there when we got off, and they had doughnuts, tea and candy at every train station. They are putting a show on for the boys now. They really are working over here. By the way, Joe Louis is to be here Friday night with a show."

Now, you can get yourself a new flag. One with two blue stars for Ralph and Earl and a Silver one for me, now that I'm overseas. We'll take very good care that it doesn't become gold. The very best of care, I assure you both.

"I was just reading the letter that I received from you both, just before I left the states. I have read them both several times. It helped a lot and don't either of you worry about me taking the best of care of myself. You know I will do that, in everyway possible. Why just today I spotted a cow nearby. I'll bet I have milk for breakfast."

"The food here has been much better than I expected. It's pretty good. As far as my quarters, well I have had much worse. It's dry and I have a cot. I sleep like a baby, so I guess that's all that matters."

HE OWED NAUGHT

NEW YORK—The prize exhibit of the New York State Income Tax Bureau is a money order for $50.00, sent in by a man whose return showed he owed no state income tax.

A warning was issued Wednesday by members of the local Office of Price Administration to farmers and truck drivers to watch the expiration date on their gasoline stamps.

The date for the expiration of second quarter T stamps is June 30. Dealers all over the county find that many persons do not watch the expiration date on these stamps and consequently find themselves needing gasoline when their stamps have expired. Application for the new stamps should be made as soon as possible so that they can be obtained before the time for the expiration of those now in use.

Applicants for the third quarter T stamps should present their ODT certificate to the ration office between June 25 and the first of July in order to get their new stamps promptly. The office will start writing them after that date.

The largest dealer in the county sold five times as much gasoline last month to purchasers in bulk lots as was sold in all their stations. This shows that the farmers are getting the bulk of the gasoline that is used in this county.

KROGER BUYS $4,000 BONDS IN COUNTY DRIVE

Banks Arrange To Give Full Information To Local Subscribers

The Kroger Grocery and Baking company has allocated $4,000 of its purchase of series C bonds to Pickaway county. This is on the basis of $1,000 for each store in the county.

War Finance Committee Chairman Clark Will said Thursday that a report of the progress of the drive would be given Saturday when his committee would have had sufficient time to compile the figures and make a report.

The county quota of series E bonds is $294,000. Each bank in the county has made arrangements to advise bond purchasers as to the difference in the types of bonds offered, rate of interest, maturity date and other features. Prospective purchasers of bonds should feel free to call on any of the banks for information.

The county's quota of other issues of bonds to be sold to individuals is $326,000 while corporations and organizations are asked to subscribe to $856,000.

Mr. Will says that: SERIES E BONDS are the ideal investment for the wage earner. They are attractive as gifts and for making provisions for retirement and the education of children.

SERIES F AND G BONDS are designed primarily for larger individual investors; also corporations, associations, estates and trusts.

SERIES G BONDS may be redeemed at par upon the death of an owner or co-owner and are attractive for persons who desire steady income, as interest at the rate of 2½% per annum is paid semi-annually by Treasury check.

SERIES C SAVING NOTES are intended to meet the need for Federal income tax payments and short term investments. They may be presented in payment of Federal income, estate or gift taxes, current or back, at any time during and after the second calendar month after the month of purchase. They are eligible as collateral for bank loans and may be redeemed for cash, at par and accrued interest, during and after the sixth month after purchase except by commercial banks that accept demand deposits, in which event redeemable at par only.

2½% BONDS OF 1965-70. This is an additional issue of the .26 year bond offered in the Fourth War Loan. Although the bonds will be dated February 1, 1944, interest on the bonds sold during the Fifth War Loan drive will accrue from June 26. A special coupon will cover interest that will accrue to September 15, 1944, the first interest payment date. The bonds will be issued in coupon or registered form, at buyer's option, in denominations from $500 to $1,000,000. They will be due March 15, 1970. They will be callable on and after March 15, 1965. They are attractive long term investment for insurance companies and other large investors, corporate and individual, and may be redeemed at par and accrued interest on death of the owner for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes.

2% Bonds of 1952-54. This ten

Salt Creek Valley

Mrs. Eva Hedges, who spent the winter in Circleville with her daughter, Mrs. Clydus Fausnaugh, has returned to her home in our valley for a few weeks.

—Salt Creek Valley— Mrs. Laurence Spencer and family of Portsmouth, were visitors last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Shride.

It has been estimated that more than 2,000,000 persons are directly dependent on the forests and forest products of the United States for their livelihood.

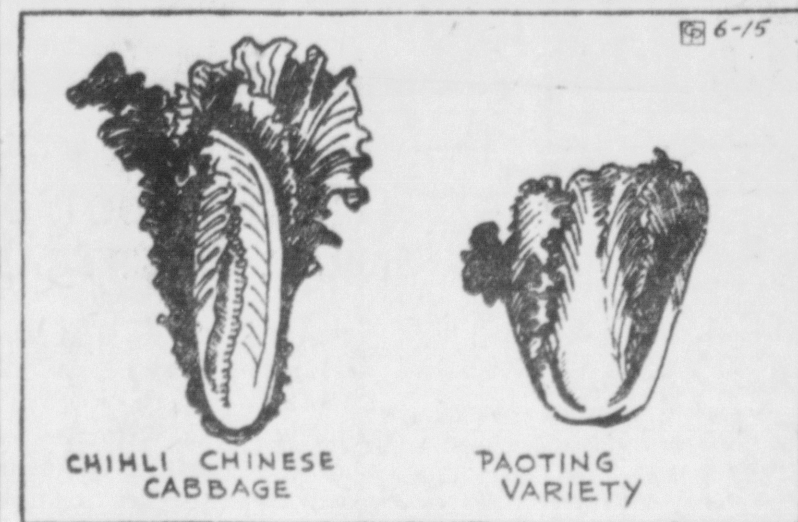

year 2% issue, similar to those so popular in earlier drives, replaces the 2½% issue of the Fourth War Loan. Dated June 26, 1944, the bonds will mature June 15, 1954, and will be callable on and after June 15, 1952. They will be issued in coupon or registered form, at buyer's option, in denominations of $500 to $1,000,000. This is an excellent medium term, readily marketable security for buyers of all kinds.

1½% NOTES OF SERIES B, 1947. This is a new short term issue (about 2½ years), dated June 26, 1944, and due March 15, 1947. Issued in denominations of $1,000 to $1,000,000 in coupon form only. They provide an excellent investment medium for corporations building up post-war reserves for inventories and war plant conversions, or for any other temporary investment of surplus funds.

1% CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS OF SERIES C, 1945. These certificates, issued in coupon form only, will be dated June 26, 1944, and mature June 1, 1945. Denominations range from $1,000 to $1,000,000. They are suitable investments for corporations seeking temporary investment of deferred maintenance, depletion, depreciation or inventory reserves, as well as a convenient temporary investment for individuals and others with surplus funds which they are likely to need within a year's time. They are eligible for bank loan collateral and readily marketable.

Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH

China Aids Our Victory Gardens

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

CHINESE CABBAGE, which we originally adopted from our plucky Far Eastern ally, is also known in this country as celery cabbage. This, no doubt, is due to its habit of growth for it grows more like celery than does our common cabbage.

Chinese cabbage if grown early in the season has a tendency to run to seed. If planted in July or even as late as August, in our temperate zones, a fall crop can be harvested which will have crisp flesh and a nutty flavor.

Chihli and Paoting are two popular varieties of Chinese cabbage and each is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

The Chihli variety has a long, compact head which resembles celery when the outer leaves are removed. The leaves are very thin, slightly wrinkled, considerably veined and of a light green color.

Paoting is a genuine "Wong Bok" type and has a broad, solidly compact head. It is a desirable variety.

Chinese cabbage is a fine vegetable when cooked like ordinary varieties of cabbage but is even more palatable when served raw as a salad or cole slaw.

Plants, when about two inches high, should be spaced or thinned to about 10 or 12 inches apart in the row.

METHODIST MEN STAGE MEET AT TED LEWIS PARK

Methodist Men's Brotherhood had an outdoor meeting Wednesday at Ted Lewis Park and entertained at the affair 20 boys, members of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the church and members of John Magill's class of the Sunday school. Sixty-five club members gathered at the park.

A picnic dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. under supervision of C. D. Shook. The menu included baked ham, potato salad, tomatoes, pickles, olives, cheese and homemade pie.

The highlight of the evening was the ball game between the Boy Scouts and members of the Magill class and the Brotherhood, the boys winning 19-18.

Dan McClain, president of the Brotherhood, conducted a brief business session during which the guests were introduced.

Natives in the jungles of South America prefer to be paid in mosquito net and beads rather than cash.

COUNTY HOLDS ITINERANT FOR FURTHER PROBE

Arthur Carl Hosch, 62, an itinerant, arrested by Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputy Vern L. Pontius, two weeks ago for the lack of possession of a selective service registration card is being held in the county jail for further investigation.

A report from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Tuesday revealed this man had been arrested as Arthur M. Miller in 1926 at Louisville, Ky. for vagrancy, as A. M. Miller in Ralston, Florida in 1928 for breaking and entering and sentenced to 3 years in the penitentiary and again in Onondago county, Pa. for vagrancy and served 3 days in the county jail there.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST
22.—Reading of Leads

NO PHASE of bridge presents a bigger contrast between what is done by average players and fine ones than what is called "card-reading." That means the ability of a player to figure out facts about the unseen hands, based on what he has learned from the bidding, the opening lead and the cards he has already seen. The most skillful play often depends on what can be learned by such inferences.

Often a great deal of information may be obtained from your partner's opening lead. Suppose he has led a low card, which you can read as almost certainly his fourth-best from a suit of four or more cards. If it is the lowest he could possibly hold in the suit, because you see all lower ones in your own hand and the dummy, you know he had exactly four. That would then tell you exactly how many cards the declarer has in the suit.

Looking for the lower cards after such a lead is what is called "the rule of fourth-best." If one of the lower cards is not in sight, your partner may have held five, and if two are missing, he may have had six. As those cards appear on later tricks, you get the exact count. But you immediately have a partial count of both his and the declarer's holding, and then gradually make it more exact.

Another important measure, after a fourth-best lead, is what is called "the rule of eleven." This helps you locate the high cards in the suit. Suppose your partner led the 6. Subtract 6 from 11. The result, 5, is the number of cards, higher than his lead, which are in the other three hands. If you see two of them in dummy and have two of them yourself, you know the declarer has only one card which can beat the 6.

There is nothing mysterious about that magic 11, which is easy to explain. Since the cards in a suit extend from the 2 upward, the jack is the 11, the queen is the 12, the king the 13 and the ace is really the 14. When your partner leads his fourth-best, subtract its number from 14 to find out how many higher ones are in the deck. Then subtract 3 because he has three of them, and the answer is the number which the other hands have. Since you are going to subtract 3 each time from the difference between his card and 14, why not merely subtract the 3 from 14 in the first place to short-cut the process. In other words, deducting his card from 11 does the job in one operation instead of two.

Now, for example, suppose he leads a 5. You see the K-J-4 in the dummy and hold the Q-7-2 yourself. By the rule of fourth-best, your partner may have a five-card suit because the 5 is not in view. By the rule of eleven, 5 from 11 leaves six cards higher than his 5 in the other three hands. You see four of them, so you know the declarer has exactly two cards which can beat the 5.

If your partner leads an honor against No Trump, you know he has an "honor combination" of at least three of the top six cards, with at least two of them touching. If he has opened a jack, you know he has not the queen, because if he did that would have been his lead instead, as the top of the touchers. You know he has the 10, and one other card as good as the 9 or better, which must be the ace, king or 9. You may see some of these, and know perhaps exactly just what he held.

If against a suit contract your partner leads a king, you know he has the ace or queen, in sequence with it. If he leads a queen, he has the jack but not the king. If he leads a jack, he has the 10 but not the queen. If he leads a card below honor rank, it is almost surely from a suit containing no honors, and is fourth-best from a suit of four or more, the top of three cards or two, or a singleton.

There will be times when your partner violates the custom as to the card which should be led from a suit, and therefore will fool you while trying to fool the declarer, but with good players the cases for doing that are rare.

Tomorrow: Play of Third Hand.

TOKYO SPEARHEAD

A thrilling true account of this war's unsung heroes, the infantrymen, will be broadcast by Cavalcade of America Monday from Hollywood, when "Tokyo Spearhead" will be heard. The broadcast is a dramatization of the diary kept by the sergeant in charge of the foot-slogging soldiers who crossed the Owen Stanley Mountains in New Guinea with the Second Battalion of the 126th Infantry in the Fall of 1942... a feat which proved to be one of the greatest military marches in American history. The Second Battalion was composed of men from Big Rapids, Michigan, and was led by Sergeant Paul Lutjens, who will be portrayed by Richard Conte of the movies.

The men on the Owen Stanley March had to fight, not only the enemy, but disease and death, typhus, malaria, and the implacable jungle. Their job was to get over those mountains and help keep the Japs from attacking Australia.

OLD AMERICAN TUNES

In the perpetuation of American music, John Charles Thomas, through orchestra leader Victor Young, has commissioned a group of leading Hollywood composers now writing scores for pictures, to write three minute scores of old-time American melodies to be featured on the Thomas program Sundays. The first will be Victor Young's arrangement of "The Arkansas Traveler" to be heard Sunday, June 4.

RADIO NEWS NOTES

Lou Costello did the best emcee job of his life the other day—and gratis.

Bud Abbot, his partner in radio and pictures, opened up his new night club in the San Fernando Valley near Hollywood, and Lou volunteered his services to give the bistro a good send-off. Called "Back-Stage," the restaurant specializes in Italian food and is managed by Harry Abbott, Bud's brother.

Whe Milton Berle, star of "Let Yourself Go" Tuesday nights, finishes his record run in "Ziegfeld Follies" on Broadway, he'll probably go right into another musical now in preparation for the Shubert's. It has been titled "One Night in Brazil" and the book is being written by Phil Rapp, who used to pen material for the Fannie Brice-Frank Morgan programs.

Phil Spitalny and his "Hour of Charm" girls are boosting Fifth War Loan Drive subscriptions. They are offering copies of the "Hour of Charm" hymn book, tickets to the broadcast, and autographed photographs of the program's stars, to purchasers of various denominations of War Bonds.

A lunch counter opposite the CBS Playhouse in New York has this sign: "We cook as good as your wife—and besides you won't have to wash any dishes."

Mohammed was born at Mecca in 570 A. D., and fled to Medina in 622. He was poisoned and died in 632.
